Dear Customer,

Bally video games are now being sold & promoted as Astrocade. Many new games are being added to the game library available. I am enclosing a folder showing the latest releases. Please note some of them will not be available until 1983, as indicated on the price list enclosed.

Please note also the Astrocade basic 6004 which makes your video game into a mini-computer which can be later expanded into a full size home computer if desired.

If interested in any of these items let me know soon if desired for Christmas & I will order them for you.
